—— [Records.] The Fourth Volume, containing the Introduction. [Not in the Library.]

This volume, unknown to bibliographers until a recent period, was acquired by the Hon. Society of Lincoln's Inn at the sale of the Stowe Library in 1849.

"The first volume of the work commences with Book the Second. The fourth volume is called Book the First, and consists of the Introduction described by Prynne in the first volume, 'as not yet completed, swelling to an entire tome,' and designed, as stated by the author in the Epistle to the Readers prefixed to the second volume, to embrace the period extending 'from Adam till Christ's ascension into Heaven; and from thence in relation to the Roman, Greek and German Emperors, and other Christian Kings, in foreign parts, till our modern age.' The volume terminates unfinished, at page 400, with the words: coepiscopi tui et coma— It is without title-page, but has the same headline over the pages as the other volumes, viz. An Exact History of Pope's intollerable Usurpations upon the Liberties of the Kings and Subjects of England and Ireland.

"It is supposed that not more than twenty-five sets of the three volumes exist, most of the copies of the first volume, and a great number of the second, together with the Introduction, having perished at the house of the printer in the Great Fire of London. It is probable that the copy of the introductory volume now in the possession of the Society of Lincoln's Inn had been reserved in the author's hands for his own use during the progress of the work through the press; and that, if any other copies were rescued from the flames, not having been issued to the public, they have since perished, from the circumstance of their being unfinished and without title-page, and having consequently been disregarded by persons into whose hands they may have fallen."—Spilsbury's Lincoln's Inn, pp. 283-7.

A complete list of Prynne's works is found in the Appendix to the Sale Catalogue of Mr. Purton Cooper's Library, 1857; a copy of this very rare Sale Catalogue is in the Library of the Hon. Society of Lincoln's Inn.
